Meeting of the School Board and Important Business Transacted.

ASSIGNMENT OF TEACHERS

Professor Riley's Salary Increased—Where Children Shall Attend School—Wages of Teachers Raised.

BUTTE, Aug. 31.—A regular meeting of the school board was held this evening and much important business pertaining to the running of the schools during the coming year, was transacted.

Several applications for positions as teachers were received and read, but owing to the fact that it is impossible to determine how many extra positions would be created, no action was taken in the matter. Not long since the board determined, on account of a lack of accommodations, to hold but one session in some of the primary grades to consist but three hours. The trustees last evening found that they had come in collision with the law, which expressly states that each scholar in the public schools shall receive at least four hours' instruction each day. Nothing was done, however, toward the solution of the problem.

The trustees decided to hire two extra school rooms in the Realty building in East Park street.

The assignment of teachers to the various positions was as follows:

Central school—First g., Miss Berger; first g. n., Miss Gibbs; second g., Miss McCarthy; second g. w., Miss Tucker; third g., Miss Birdseye; third g., Miss Kelly; fifth g., Miss Darnold; sixth g., Miss Evans; seventh g., Miss Robinson; eighth g., Miss Calkins.

West Walkerville—First and second, Miss Brown.

South Butte—First g., Miss Boland; second and third, Miss Butler; fourth and fifth, Miss Teague.

East Broadway—First g., Miss Hotchkiss.

The pupils living east of Main street are to go to the High school building; west of Main street to the Central. The pupils living north of the railroad, just north of the power house, are to go to school in Centerville. The second grade in Centerville will go to the old building. The children of the first grade in Centerville will attend school in the school room nearest their homes.

The pupils of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades in Walkerville will attend school in Centerville. The pupils of the fourth and fifth grades in Meadeville will attend school at the central school house; those of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades will go to the High school building. The pupils of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades in South Butte will attend school in the High school building.

Miss Morgan was relieved of her duties as teacher of music and will hereafter devote herself exclusively to instructions in drawing. W. Howard being elected to the vacancy of music teacher.

Mr. McCracken moved that the salaries of Miss Crossman, principal of the Central school, Miss Teague of the South Butte, Miss Holland of the Walkerville school be increased $10 a month and the salary of Miss Evans of the Central school be increased to $90 a month. The motion was unanimously carried.

The bill for repairs of the Central school, amounting to $86, was presented and laid over until the next meeting.

The question came up in regard to allowing Mr. Lee, principal of the High school, an increased salary for his recently increased labors as assistant superintendent. Mr. Gehman moved that the salary be fixed at $195 per month. Mr. McCracken strongly opposed the motion, but it was carried by a vote of 10 to 2.

Adjourned until next regular meeting.

It Was a Large Gun.

BUTTE, Aug. 31.—The life of an inebriated man is sometimes very unenviable, more so when he is compelled to look into the muzzle of a great blunderbuss, as was Hugh Buchanan, last night. The gun was in the hands of Lee Cohn, of the Capitol fruit house. Buchanan had been drinking rather freely and last night about 11 o'clock he went, as he said, into the Capitol on business. He was well acquainted with the employees of the Capitol, and was surprised on being met with a request to "take a walk." Buchanan refused to go and was finally told by Lee if he didn't get out he would compel him to do so. Buchanan still insisted on staying and is said to have called Lee some rank names. Cohn pulled a big gun and again requested him to take his departure, which he did.

Incarcerated at Work.

BUTTE, Aug. 31.—Incendiaries appear to have joined forces with the footpads and other thieves who have of late been infesting the city. Quite early to-night not less than four separate attempts were made to fire the two old frame buildings adjoining the STANDARD office on the west, and formerly occupied as the St. Nicholas hotel. One of the buildings is now occupied as a barber shop, and was the one selected by the incendiaries for their work. A lot of shavings and other inflammable material was placed under the floor and set on fire. Fortunately each time the fire was discovered before it had made much headway and was easily extinguished. Chief Leyden was informed of the attempted incendiarism and the buildings are closely watched by the police.

Picnic and Camp Fire.

BUTTE, Aug. 31.—The Sons of Veterans and the G. A. R. have decided to hold a joint picnic and camp fire at Columbia gardens, lasting three days, beginning Sept. 11. A sham battle, band contest and competitive drill will form part of an interesting programme.

The drill will be for a valuable trophy and the contest will be open to all comers, the only stipulation being that all contestants shall be regularly organized military companies. A game of base ball between two nines, composed of professional gentlemen, dressed in various fantastic costumes, will also form an attractive feature of the event.

Letter heads, bill heads, job printing of every description neatly done at the STANDARD office.

A BRUTAL HUSBAND.

Forces His Wife to a Life of Shame and Degradation.

BUTTE, Aug. 31.—In his rounds about the city to-day a STANDARD reporter learned a peculiarly sad story of a trustful, innocent woman's love and a man's utter depravity and inhuman selfishness. For the sake of the unfortunate woman and in order to assist her in her efforts to regain her former standing among decent and respectable people assumed names are given, for were the rightful names published it could only add to her shame and possibly tend to keep her in the slough of degradation into which circumstances have forced her.

One day last week John Huntington and his wife arrived in the city from one of the Washington towns. Both were young, well educated, and, it is said, recently married. The husband was a strong, muscular fellow, well able to perform any kind of labor, but as subsequent events went to show, to lazy to employ the powers nature had given him to earn a livelihood, and, in fact, to such an extent that his wife could support him and her, even at the cost of everything to a pure and modest woman. They were without money and among strangers and something had to be done to keep them from starvation. The husband absolutely refused to engage in such honorable employment as he was able to secure, saying he was not used to such work as was offered him. His wife tried to plead with him, but to no avail, and instead of listening to her pleadings and endeavoring to do something he disgraced himself and his sex by ordering her to go to work in one of the concert halls so as to support him in idleness and ease. The wife, who had been a respectable woman and indignantly refused to comply with the demands of the depraved and contemptible wretch whom she called husband. Driven by want and the prospect of soon being hungry and without a roof to shelter her, the poor woman started in search of employment and trudged wearily from house to house offering her services in any capacity that might be needed. Although refused and more than ordinarily humiliated and plainly not accustomed to life in the kitchen, she begged to be employed as a servant, chambermaid or in any other position so long that it was honorable and honest. For several days she continued her fruitless quest, and when her last penny was gone, and she was utterly without means, she sought for employment in the direct on her soulless husband attempted to force her upon their arrival in the city. Being come and well dressed, she had no difficulty in obtaining a position as waitress in the Clippie Shadys, a notorious resort at the corner of Park and Wyoming streets. Compelled by poverty to descend to such a level, the woman was determined that her graceless husband should not share the benefits secured at the cost of her self respect and womanly modesty and she peremptorily ordered him to leave and never allow himself to be seen again. The man, dead to all decency and manly feelings, at first declined to do so and attempted to coerce his wife into supporting him. To her credit, however, it must be said she remained firm, and as a last resort threatened to cause the scoundrel's arrest for vagrancy. The husband, who had been a respectable man and had the desired results and the lecherous villain disappeared, and not having been seen for several days it is supposed that he has rid the city of his contaminating presence.

Saturday night Mrs. Huntington was still at work, but it was plain to be seen that her surroundings were as repulsive and distasteful as they could only be to a pure and modest woman, and she shrank in fright from the cursing, blaspheming and vile abuse which she had to endure. Although disinclined to speak much about her life before coming to Butte, the unfortunate woman allowed it to be understood that she had married Huntington against the will of her parents and, possibly, her friends, and that she followed her husband to Butte, where he promised to go to work and support her as a decent, respectable husband should support a wife. How well he kept that promise, and how highly he prized the love that caused a virtuous and pure girl to make the sacrifice she did, his conduct after arriving here has shown.

MAT STORM'S BIG WINNINGS.

He Thinks the Entrance Money in Montana Too Much.

BUTTE, Aug. 31.—Mat Storm, the California horseman, shipped his racers, six in number, to Portland to-day from here, where they will start in the races which open there on Sept. 5. Mr. Storm's racers have started Marigold, Eldorado, Centella, Mystery and Top Gallant, all of which won large purses, the winnings of the latter alone being $1,217. He also started his horses at Great Falls and Helena and was one of the largest winners on the circuit. At the three places his winnings, clear of expenses, amount to $15,000. As a horseman Mr. Storm made a very favorable impression on the members of the Montana Racing association, and they have expressed themselves as being desirous of seeing him attend their future meetings. He does not appear to have any desire to return, and gives as his reason the exorbitant figure charged as entrance money, 10 per cent of the purse. He says he had never before been compelled to pay such a figure and would never do it again. However, it is thought his success during the late circuit will be an inducement to him to return.

Suits Commenced.

BUTTE, Aug. 31.—The number of cases in Department I. of the district court still increases, and to-day two more were added to the list.

Action was commenced by John Noyes against Gervais Tibbodeaux to quiet the title of lot 9 in block 7, of the Noyes & Union railroad addition. The plaintiff claims to have owned the property for some time, and alleges that on Dec. 7, 1887, the defendant took possession and ousted him from it. He further says that the defendant has since that date claimed the property to the damage of the plaintiff in the sum of $500. The plaintiff claims that since the defendant took possession of the property he has suffered an additional loss of $10 per month, the amount of which he has not received. He sues for the restitution of the property, together with damages assessed above, $10 per month since Dec. 7, 1887, and costs of the suit.

Suit was commenced against A. W. Nohie by W. M. Jack for the recovery of $341.05. The indebtedness was contracted on Saturday last and is a balance due on some machinery and other wares delivered by the plaintiff to the defendant. Thompson Campbell is attorney for the plaintiff, and together with judgment for the amount they sue for interest due since Aug. 29.

WHAT FOLKS TALK ABOUT.

A Brew-Maker Can Find Steady Employment—That Smoke Ordinance.

BUTTE, Aug. 31.—If Melbourne, the rainmaker, who is now at Cheyenne, would invent some kind of a wind maker and would establish a permanent west coast branch at Butte, he could make quite a fortune in this city. That would solve the smoke problem in quick order and with complete satisfaction.

By the way, the smoke ordinance goes into effect to-morrow. Nothing is being done however, toward enforcing the ordinance but it may be that the authorities will get a move on in a few days.

The property owners of Wyoming street who have been affected by the recent ordinance say that it is impossible to keep their property for business purposes so long as Galena street is thronged with the evil characters.

"If Galena street were cleaned out," said one of the property owners to-day, "we could turn Wyoming and Galena streets into a business thoroughfare as long as Galena street is disreputable, Wyoming street will be disreputable. The matter is getting to be a very serious question with us. Our property along that street is not worth 50 per cent of what it was before that ordinance was passed. I rented a place for $125 per month that now I only get $50 for. They say it is an eye-sore for visitors coming into town to pass up Wyoming street, lined with houses of ill fame. But if they come up Wyoming street they cannot help but see two-thirds of the north side of Galena street, where are the worst cribs in town. Clean these places out together with all of Galena street and make a business street of Wyoming street, but not until then. If necessary move them all down to Gold street, but treat us all alike."

Green blinds have been placed on all the windows in Wyoming street. This has been done by the property owners on the understanding that the council would not object to such an arrangement. Accordingly some of the former denizens of the street have moved back to their former quarters.

FUNERAL OF ALDERMAN REICHEL.

A Large Number of Friends Accompany the Remains to Glen.

BUTTE, Aug. 31.—The tolling of the city hall bell at 9 o'clock this morning marked the time it required to convey the body of the late Alderman William Reichel from his residence in East Park street to St. Patrick's church. The funeral procession that accompanied the remains to the church and from the church to the depot was an impressive one. A squad of police led the way, followed by the volunteer and paid firemen with the fire apparatus. The members of the A. O. U. W. were out to the number of about 50. The funeral was held at the residence of the late Alderman, together with most of the other city officials were in the procession. The late Reichel was a native of Germany, born in the spring of 1879, is looked upon as the oldest seaman in Europe.

Ellensburg, Wash., is elated over the discovery of gold in that city. It is said that nuggets as large as thimbles are being found.

A Utah, Cal., man, the owner of a three-story hop house, recently conceived the idea of turning the building into a mammoth incubator for the hatching of chickens. He has given evidence of his faith in the practicability of the scheme by setting a hatch of 24,000 eggs.

A cubic foot of aluminum weighs 157 pounds. A cubic foot of copper weighs 558 pounds. A sheet of aluminum 12 inches square and 1 inch thick weighs 14 pounds. A bar of aluminum 1 inch square and 12 inches thick will weigh 1.17 pounds. A cubic inch of cast aluminum weighs 0.092.

Probably the most remarkable railroad in the world is that running from Glenging to Loureng, near Vienna. It is only 25 miles in length, but costs $9,000,000. It begins at an elevation of 1,600 feet and has its terminus at 13,000 feet. It has 15 double viaducts, 17 tunnels and crosses itself nine times.

The recent hot wave in Southern California cost one rancher there over $500 in one day. He had a bee ranch at Newhall which in the forenoon was worth $600. About 1 o'clock a hot wind came up, which in two or three hours had melted the honey, smothered the bees, and cleared out the whole thing.

Voting day in Japan presents some curious sights. The voters have to don their best garments and proceed to the voting center, there to ballot without any parading as soon after 8 o'clock as possible. After casting their ballots they make a bow to the assemblage present, in which their heads nearly strike the floor, and retire as silently as they came.

A Pennsylvania barber has just completed a novel fishing line which occupied five years in making, and is made entirely of human hair of every color and shade, nicely woven together. Every time he operated on the glossy locks of a female customer he begged a few silken threads. The line, which is over 100 feet long, is an unusually strong one.

The fees incidental to the obtaining of the title of baron in Germany are said to figure up about $5,000, that of count $20,000, duke $30,000 and a prince $70,000. They say one of the reasons why Bismarck didn't accept the title of Duke of Lauenburg was on account of the expenses involved, though it is doubtful if he would have taken it if it was brought to him on a silver tray.

BERLIN, Aug. 31.—It is reported in Hamburg that all restrictions on American pork will be removed to-morrow. United States Minister William Walter Phelps when questioned upon the subject smilingly refused to confirm the report. It is known, however, that Phelps in his last dispatch to the German foreign office intimated plainly to the officials that the patience of President Harrison and Secretary Blaine would not last beyond September.

What Timothy Hopkins Said.

OMAHA, Aug. 31.—Timothy Hopkins came in on a Union Pacific train to-night. Speaking of the relation of his case to the control of the Central Pacific road, he said: "I can tell you nothing of a definite nature. I am not anticipating anything. However, I will say, since you have spoken of a possible title of a chief of the elements in the Southern Pacific, that while such a war may be possible, there will be no trouble. Senator Stanford has not assumed a belligerent attitude in the present affair and Mr. Huntington alone has expressed his feeling and the position he will take in regard to the Southern Pacific."

He Thought He Was Up in a Balloon—Badly Shaken Up.

BUTTE, Aug. 31.—Among others who visited the gardens yesterday to witness the balloon ascensions was a man named McEwan, who boards at the Silver Lake hotel in East Quar 2 street. He was greatly interested in the parachute jump. He got a jig on and retired about 10 o'clock. His room is situated on the third floor of the house, a distance of 35 feet from the ground.
